Councilman Whipple mentioned that he had attended the Space Coast League of Cities meeting on Monday, May 14th. At the meeting, City Manager Titkanich was presented with an award from the state. Councilman Whipple was proud to receive the recognition on behalf of the City Council and City Manager. He read the award into the record.

He explained what the "Home Rule Hero Award" meant and pointed out that the City manager stood for not only our municipality, but for others as well. He believed it was a tribute to what kind of employees we have within this City.

Mayor Parrish added that this was the second year that the City Manager had won this award.

2. Proclamation: Law Enforcement Appreciation Week May 13 through May 19, 2018. (18-197). (Chief of Police)

Chief Cantaloupe read the proclamation into the record, proclaiming the week of May 13-19, 2018 as Law Enforcement Appreciation Week.

IV. DELEGATIONS:

Donna Kettner, 103 Derby Street, in Cocoa, hoped that everyone could continue as a community and discuss the downtown area. She spoke about plans for the new hotel at 603 Brevard Avenue and asked how many "For Rent" signs were posted around the village. In response, she stated about thirty. She believes the City is going backwards when everyone else believes they are moving forward. This is a day destination, not an overnight destination. She is not against a hotel but does not feel it should go downtown. She hoped Council would keep it a charming village. She urged everyone to speak to those merchants/vendors already here and get their input on the plan.

Brad Whitmore, 351 Rockledge Drive, HCVA, spoke about an annual publication and that the information in the 2018 edition is no longer applicable regarding the waterfront facilities. He will update the information and will run it by the Assistant City Manager for approval. He knows there is a tremendous amount of work going on in regards to the waterfront and it will be taken to a whole new level. He reminded Council that HCVA along with other parties want to help provide expertise and help do the legwork to make the Village the Jewel that it should be. He thought Ms. Kettner spoke eloquently and agreed with many of her points. He stated things are changing.

V. CONSENT AGENDA:

1. Approval to amend the FY2018 budget by means of Budget Resolution and approve the change orders to move funds to the appropriate account numbers in order to true up the construction projects for CP16F1, CP16F2 and CP16F3 (Fire Stations 1, 2 and 3). (18-142). (Public Works Director)

(18-167). (Community Services Director)

Ms. Hamilton explained the item and that after the Mayor has executed all of the documents they would be submitting everything to HUD.

Ms. Bunt reminded Council that on February 27, 2018 she came before them with the recommended CDBG and HOME allocations. The City anticipates receiving $178,889 from CDBG funds and $71,828 in HOME grant funds for FY 2018/2019 from HUD.

She noted in detail the following programs and the amounts they would be receiving:

THE MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY (5-0)

VII. COUNCIL BUSINESS:

1. Approve a preferred site location for the new Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center and commit up to $3.7 million to support the project. Direct the City Attorney to draft an Interlocal Agreement with the Diamond Square CRA to memorialize the City's financial contribution to the new Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center project and the Diamond Square CRA commitment to fund pool improvements and or construction, prioritize and fund park improvements for non-selected site and fund a feasibility study of repurposing the existing center. (18-186). (City Manager).

Ms. Hamilton spoke about the item and advised that City Manager Titkanich would be presenting information on the item.

City Manager Titkanich provided a presentation[1] regarding the Joe Lee Smith Center. He mentioned that the center was constructed in 1963, is 5,992 square feet, and is currently maintained by Brevard County Parks and Recreation). He spoke in detail about the current condition of the existing center and noted that there is asbestos, lead based paint, bathrooms that were not up to code, and many other issues.

He advised that the new Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center (at its current location) would be approximately 14,850 square feet which is nearly 2 ½ times larger than the current facility and it would serve as a neighborhood community center versus the current recreational center.

Programs that would be included are: Multi-Programming Services for both seniors and youth; it would be designed to include a public health clinic; it would be larger and more modern multi-purpose recreational facility; and it would have a larger capacity for community meeting space.

An exterior rendering of the proposed design was shown and he pointed out that there would be an entrance for the health center.

Next, he discussed the Dr. Joe Lee Smith Community Center and Provost Park. In the 1998 Diamond Square Community Redevelopment Plan the need for recreational opportunities and upgrades at both the Dr. Joe Lee Smith Recreation Center and Provost Park was mentioned.

[1] EXHIBIT A: Dr. Joe Lee Smith Community Center Presentation

In the 2014 Diamond Square Community Redevelopment Plan Update, it was mentioned that the Joe Le. Smith Center upgrades and/or reconstruction of Provost Park could be tied into the community center. Furthermore, this is consistent with the City of Cocoa's 2016-2021 Strategic Plan, Community Services, and the redevelopment of the City's core.

He stressed that the new center would also help address the issue of crime and crime prevention as the Police Department's Community Relations Unit would help with that.

City Manager Titkanich went over the timeline for the Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center, starting in 2014, when the Redevelopment Plan Update was completed. He ended with the last meeting, which was a Community meeting regarding the location preference, which was held on May 9, 2018.

He further explained that at the May 9th Community Meeting staff presented the site design concepts for the existing center as well as the concepts for the new center at Provost Park. Community conversation and public comment was solicited and a HUD Community Survey was distributed and collected.

The Diamond Square boundaries were shown as well as an aerial view of the existing Joe Lee Smith Center.

A conceptual site plan for the existing site was reviewed and one of the proposed locations was at the corner of Stone and Washington Street.

An aerial view of Provost Park was reviewed and he pointed out that a lot of concerns were mentioned regarding the conditions at the park. He assured residents that they have met with SCAT, since that was a big concern of many, and they are looking at relocating that location. This would then make the buses load and drop off at the veteran's parking lot.

The conceptual site plan for Provost Park was shown and he advised that there would be a splash pad. City Manager Titkanich is aware that it has been mentioned that a pool would be necessary, however, the City acknowledges that in poor or minority communities there are more incidents of drowning. Staff does not disagree that a pool would be necessary they are just not sure if it would want to be pursued or not.

City Manager Titkanich spoke about the walking distance from each site shown, and stressed that according to the American Planning Association, a neighborhood park/center should be accessible within a 5-10 minute walk.

Community Data showed a ten minute walk, and different activities that would be held at the centers was discussed.

He discussed in detail the community survey that was provided to all of the attendees of the Community Meeting on May 9th. There were approximately 119 attendees at that meeting.

Lastly, City Manager Titkanich spoke about the next steps in regards to the path of the new Joe Lee Smith Center. He pointed out that the requested action tonight was to determine the preferred site. After this, an RFQ would have to be done for site design and engineering which would take place in 2018/2019. The RFQ issuance would be in 2019 and construction would commence in 2019.

Funding was discussed in furtherance, and he noted that the total estimated project cost is $4.675 million. $3.7 million would require a commitment of an additional $1 million to fund the project; there would be approximately $984,445 from CDBG Section 108 Loan Guarantee; and the Community Contribution Tax Credit Program could all be used to assist in funding.

Additionally, the Leon and Jewel Collins Center and Stone Street Projects were discussed in furtherance. He pointed out that $25,000 has been budgted for the Leon and Jewel Collins Center for purchases such as display cases, etc. to help move the museum along.

In closing, City Manager Titkanich reiterated the requested City Council action, which is:

- Approve a preferred site location for the new Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center and commit up to $3.7 million to support the project.
- Direct the City Attorney to draft an Interlocal Agreement with the Diamond Square CRA to memorialize the City's financial contribution to the new Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center project and the Diamond Square CRA's commitment to fund pool improvements and or construction, prioritize and fund park improvements for the non-selected site and fund a feasibility study of repurposing the existing center.

Mayor Parrish asked if the Diamond Square CRA had voted on anything. In response, City Manager Titkanich advised that this is a City Council issue and the City would be paying for it. Mayor Parrish asked if it was possible to leave the building as it sits today and build a new one to the front of Stone and Washington Streets. City Manager Titkanich stated that the requested action could be to do a full study to see if the existing building could be repurposed.

He reiterated his comments from before that there are a lot of issues that would have to be dealt with such as mechanical plumbing, restrooms, asbestos and lead based paint removal. Additionally, he noted that they would leave the old building as part of the interlocal agreement to repurpose.

Mayor Parrish believed that if the center is relocated it is not going to be the Joe Lee Smith Center it is going to be something to beautify the City.

Mayor Parrish informed everyone that he went to school at Poinsett and one thing he knew growing up was that the neighborhood needed work. When he was elected to office he demanded that something be done to this site. The building is old and while we can continue to do some work to it, as a City we need to bring a new building to the other side. There is a bigger problem at Provost Park and he does not want to open it back up to drug trade. He stated his point is to consider what they need to tonight and move forward, but spending $3.7 million plus weighs heavy on him. He does not want to reopen Provost Park long term looking the way it does. They must keep it as a park that is the gateway to the south. Anyone who lives there knows it is terrible.

Councilwoman Warner spoke about the agreement with the County. She advised that there are issues with them and what the County manages versus the way the City maintains them. It has nothing to do with the neighborhoods, the County does not take care of anything. She has a problem with turning over a $4 million dollar building to them and it not being taken care of.

She provided a history on the upkeep of the parks by Brevard County. She would like to have an idea of what can be done with the current Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center. She would be fine with it staying where it is, but renovated, and put a new building at Provost Park. There is a huge population that needs to be served. They could do two projects with the money they are looking at and then a center at Provost Park would be close enough for the people on Fiske Boulevard to utilize also.

Councilwoman Warner further agreed that something needs to be done with the current Provost Park. There is no reason that a deal cannot be worked out with SCAT to get residents/children to the different centers in the City. She reiterated that with this amount of money, she feels that they could serve more of the community. Her job is to do the most they can with the funding and to do what would be of most benefit to the citizens.

Her feelings are to renovate the current Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center and build a new building a Provost Park; however, she is not comfortable until a study is done at the current Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center to see if it can be renovated.

City Manager Titkanich advised the he, the Assistant City Manager, and City Attorney are working with Brevard County Parks and Recreation on an agreement. Councilwoman Warner stressed she is not blaming staff, but as a Council they have not stepped up to the County Commission to demand better service.

Councilman Whipple echoed Councilwoman Warner's sentiments in regards to the actual location of the center as it exists. In regards to the new center, he has a preference and has also heard from many of his constituents. He has heard from all sides and has maintained his cool, having listened to many things that have been said and blame placed where it should not lie. There have been people coming to meetings because they call the Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center a historical site. He asked the City Manager if the site was on the historic site register.

In response, City Manager Titkanich stated he does not believe that it qualified. Councilman Whipple stated that when verbage is used stating it is a historical site, it needs to be truthful. The center is a part of his life as well as he attended after school programs there. He believes what Councilwoman Warner stated makes good sense and the facility needs to be placed where all of the children have access to it.

Councilman Whipple stated these are some of the issues that we run into when people who do not qualify come before Council and speak. The elected officials are chosen by the majority of the citizens. He felt that if you feel the need to degrade and downright do the wrong thing to your elected officials then you are doing the wrong thing. There are church people coming before Council to ensure the center stays where it is. There are also those who do their homework. He compared to the center to the new fire stations and stated the best place for it was where it would serve the entire community.

He is for keeping it where it is but more for replacing it where it would best be used which is at Provost Park. He would love to see it go there.

Eugene Peoples, Cocoa, believed the center is better off where it is at. He disagreed with Councilman Whipple and would like to have a one on one with some of the Councilmembers.

Mayor Parrish asked Mr. Peoples if they were to leave it but build another building if it would bother him. Mr. Peoples stated no.

Lacy Bussy, 700 W. Courtenay Pkwy, Merritt Island, spoke for her grandmother who resides at 14 Pineda Street. She spoke about the community meeting on May 9th and disagreed with Councilman Whipple. She has every right to stand in front of Council. She is for rebuilding the center at the current location. She agreed with Councilwoman Warner's comments and felt that Provost Park is terrible. She stated the children will come to where ever it is built.

Purvette Bryant, 373 Stone Street, Cocoa, is in favor of it being rebuilt at its current location. It should be accessible for both seniors and children. The center has served the surrounding community for many years. It will not stop crime if you put it at Provost Park. Children and seniors cannot walk across four lanes of traffic to get to the center at Provost. She stressed the center should be rebuilt where it is at now. The center provides a safe place for children to go while their parents work at night. There are many ways this can be worked out and the most benefit would be to keep it at its current location. History is from the heart and what has been in people's hearts.

Louella McCormick, 1046 Olive Street, Cocoa, believes that the center should be renovated and remain where it is at. It should have never had the chance to have gotten in the condition it is today. Provost Park should be built up, but the center should remain where it is at.[2]

Janie Bryant, 365 Stone Street, Cocoa, & 1139 Tarpon Drive, Rockledge, felt that it would be in the best interest of the children and seniors to rebuild at the current location. It would then continue to provide services to those who live in the [2] Mayor Parrish exited the meeting at 7:28 p.m.

Diamond Square area and removing it would negatively affect property owners there.

Linda Graham, 3711 Crossbow Drive, Cocoa, stated she was prepared to speak and had done her homework.[3] She passed out information and noted she had done her homework so she is not unprepared. She trusted Mayor Parrish, Councilman Whipple and the City Manager as they had all attended meetings (for the Diamond Square Steering Committee) and they were assured it was a good plan. She asked why the plan was good then and not now. She was concerned that something was approved and then it is brought back later and it is said it is not a good idea. She is in full agreement that something needs to be done with Provost Park, but feels they should go forth with the approved plan. She spoke about the name of the building. She further stated that at the meeting they were asked to put email addresses down and they would be notified about the upcoming meetings. Furthermore, Section 108 of the plan states that they have to include the community's input and the plan does not say that you have to live in the City of Cocoa to participate.

Additionally, you have to include the community input and meetings have to be published. Furthermore, the new center does not have a kitchen and a city staff person said that reason is because there is a kitchen under the pavilion. She does not feel that is fair, as she has volunteered in the community for over 20 years. What is being proposed is not right. If it was okay then it should be okay now. When Provost Park closed, the crime just moved, and this will happen again. It saddens her to think that something would be taken away from the kids. She will support the project all the way to the end if it is done right but will not support it if it is not done right.

Audrey Brightman, 231 Stone Street, Cocoa, addressed Councilman Whipple about what a qualified person was. She provided a history lesson and stated she was the first female black life guard at Joe Lee Smith Center. She worked after her day job at NASA so that the pool could stay open until after dark. She listed names of other residents who frequented the center during that time and mentioned that her uncle had taught her to work for her community. Lastly, she pointed out that something does not become a historical site unless you apply for it, but it is historic in their eyes.

Jewel Collins, 732 Bernard Street, Cocoa, and former Councilwoman, Deputy Mayor, and current Diamond Square CRA Board member, agreed with everyone who spoke before her. She has been to several meetings and about 80% of the residents do not want the center moved. She has also spoken with several parents who rely on the center for after school care for their children, because they do not get off of work until 4:30 or 5 p.m. It is a safe haven for both parents and children. She lives near Provost Park and agrees it should be worked on but moving the center will not change what is going on in the park. She is in favor of renovating the center and possibly expanding it.

Rev. Oliver W. Wells, 709 Brevard Avenue, Christ the King Church, stated that this Council and staff have the opportunity to invest in their community. This investment is very important to the community and they should recognize that. A large amount of people showed up on May 9th to let Council know what they wanted. It was the voice of the community. He believed that Council Chambers was deceptive, because it was built to make people feel that the balance of power is in the front of the room where Council sits at the dias and there is no balance is in the back. He believed it should be rebuilt at its current location. He is in favor of work being done at Provost Park but right now this will not change what goes on there. The community is the balance of power, Council is not.

Pamela Hooks, 723 Clarissa Avenue, Cocoa, pointed out the way that Councilman Boisvert leans back in his chair. She felt it was disrespectful. She is a product of Poinsett and mentioned the May 9th Community Meeting. She advised that Councilman Whipple was overheard saying "the trouble makers are here". It was also mentioned that behind closed doors he stated that "he did not care what the community wants". She advised not to get too comfortable because if there is a crack in the door information will get out. She advised that if this is true, she asked Council if he was ready for any litigation, or violation of funding because it gets pushed under the rug. The community needs to be heard because it is their children who will be going to the centers. It is not up to Councilman Whipple, it is up to the community and they need to be heard.

Nate Hooks, 723 Carissa Avenue, Cocoa, handed out a petition[4] that he collected with over 239 signatures in favor of the Center staying where it is at. He mentioned that as a community they have attended several meetings and at each of them the community spoke in favor of a new facility built at the present location. They call it historic because it is in their community. It may not be registered in Tallahassee but it is historic in their community. Relocating the center will result in a decline in property values in the community. Secondly, it would cause a hardship for the youth who attend McNair Magnet School or

[4] EXHIBIT B: Petition distributed by Nate Hooks

Emma Jewel, as they could not safely walk to the center after school. Crossing four lanes to get to the center would cause a hardship on the parents. He asked why they would want to subject children to that. He provided statistics on accidents that happen and what could potentially happen if children were crossing Fiske Blvd. to get to Provost. He felt it would be exposing the children to harm. He provided a petition signed by over 239 citizens in favor of the center remaining at the current site.

Aleck Greenwood, Brevard Avenue, Cocoa, attended the May 9th meeting and believed the theme of the meeting was passion. These adults were once kids who went to the center and now their children utilize it. This is an important issue and they are all in favor of it being rebuilt and made better at its current site. On his survey, he wrote to do what they could to get the biggest bang for their buck. He agreed that they cannot ignore Provost Park, but they could build a facility at Provost that supports the new facility at the current location. It could possibly have something that the current center does not have. This way there would not be a division and everyone would be supported in both areas.

Mayor Parrish agreed that this is a very passionate issue and appreciated everyone participating and providing input. He agreed that in 2014 they wanted to build a new center on the current site.

He is for keeping the site and putting a new building on it, and making the neighborhood the best that it can be. He believed this was overwhelming, and asked as a community that people be mindful of Provost Park and what needs to be done there.

Councilwoman Warner still has concerns. She noted for the record, that she does not have any children or grandchildren who use the center, and on a personal level she does not have an investment as to where the center goes but does have an investment in her community. She has invested a lot of her time to the City and feels it is important to support the center and children who use it, but also support other areas as well. Both areas have predicaments and she does not feel that doing something for one part of the community means we cannot do for another part.

Her problem is that they do not know what can be done with the current building. The plan calls for a feasibility study and she wants to know what can be done to the building or if it is financially better to tear it down. She feels they need a better plan and agrees with the Mayor. Citizens have spoken and she has spoken with many citizens who would like to see it moved. She wants to know what can be done first with the existing building before a definite plan is made. They need a usable swimming pool at the center so that children can be taught how to swim. She will vote to have it at the current location but will not make a final decision until a study is done.

Councilman Boisvert agreed with Councilwoman Warner and will vote to keep it at the current location, but he too would like a study done. If it cannot be done then a new structure can be built at Provost Park.

Deputy Mayor Blanco attended the meeting on May 9th and she attended with an open mind so that she could hear what the residents had to say. What she heard was an overwhelming response that the community wanted to keep the center where it was at. She is not opposed to making improvements to Provost Park and at some point the City needs to fund improvements there as well. She pointed out that she went by the Joe Lee Smith Center and the pool is deplorable, the basketball court still looks usable, but the center is beyond its usable life and needs to be replaced. She advised that as Councilmembers, they are public servants and they listening to the constituents and people they serve. What she heard from residents was that they are in favor of leaving the center where it is at.

Councilman Whipple stated that this issue is extremely touching and important to all. Earlier in the meeting he stated that he would like the facility in Provost Park. He heard comments in regards to building the new facility at Provost Park and renovating the existing center.

In response, City Manager Titkanich reiterated the recommended action and advised that this was a Diamond Square project that the City would be taking on. The Diamond Square CRA would take on the unselected site and also commit funds to the project. He is not sure that the existing center can be refurbished. He believes the question is if it is worth it to make a decision to keep the building without a feasibility study or to move it.

Mayor Parrish believed this is very important and it is obvious that it needs to stay where it is at, and put a new building at that site. The issue of Provost Park and how it is handled will be a future decision.

Councilwoman Warner asked the City Manager if the Diamond Square CRA would see the presentation and vote on it, or was the only meeting the joint meeting with Council. In response, City Manager Titkanich mentioned it was tonight and the May 9th meeting.

City Manager Titkanich reiterated the two requested actions.

Councilman Whipple stated that from what he has heard from fellow Councilmembers and the Mayor and the majority of the citizens is that they want to keep the facility at the current location. The good thing is that the center can hopefully be rebuilt and there will be a new center. Going forward, however, there is still the issue with Provost Park. He will go along with Council to make the motion to keep it where it is at as well, but he voiced that he has legitimate concerns about what needs to be done with Provost Park.

Councilwoman Warner pointed out that she has heard concerns about their children's safety from parents who live on the west side of Fiske Boulevard. She requested that parents work together to ensure children are safe if they need to cross the street. She assured everyone that the City would work with SCAT to make sure children have bus passes.

Councilwoman Warner noted that since everyone made an effort to come out for their voices to be heard, this collaboration should not stop. Everyone should step in and help each other out.

* MOTION by Councilwoman Warner; Seconded by Councilman Boisvert, to approve the current Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center site location as the new Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center and commit up to $3.7 million to support the project. Direct the City Attorney to draft an Interlocal Agreement with the Diamond Square CRA to memorialize the City's financial contribution to the new Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center project and the Diamond Square CRA commitment to fund pool improvements and or construction, prioritize and fund park improvements for non-selected site and fund a feasibility study of repurposing the existing center.

Councilman Boisvert asked for clarification as to where the site would be. It was clarified that it would be at Stone Street and Washington Street.

Mayor Parrish was thankful the City has the money to improve its neighborhoods.

X. REPORTS:

Mr. Wegerif advised that the contractor had started work on Stone Street.

Councilman Whipple asked Mr. Wegerif if he had heard from the Juneteenth committee regarding the machinery being stored on Stone Street for the project. Assistant City Manager Fuhrer advised that they had secured an alternate site for that weekend.

Chief Cantaloupe reminded everyone that from 3-6 pm tomorrow is the "Schools Out for Summer Event" at Provost Park. They will also be reopening the park at that time.

Chief Prince thanked Councilman Whipple for thinking of Lt. Jamie Moore at the beginning of the meeting and mentioned that his funeral is Thursday at 10 a.m. in Viera.

They started in Fire Station #3 today and that is a big opportunity for District 2. They will be moving into Station #2 by the 30th. They will be scheduling the grand openings.

City Manager Titkanich mentioned that on June 19th there will be the CPSM workshop regarding the police department study. He further reminded everyone that on May 28th there will be a Memorial Day Tribute at Riverfront Park. A parade begins at 5:45 p.m. and the event begins with a stage presentation at 6:30 p.m.

Councilman Whipple thanked his fellow Councilmembers for being in attendance tonight and for speaking what was on their heart in regards to the Joe Lee Smith Center/Provost Park issue. He advised that he echoed their sentiments going forward. He quoted Martin Luther King, stating that "the ultimate measure of a man is where one stands in comfort". The community has been challenged and he applauded those who came out and gave their opinion about what needed to be done.

He noted he had an initial preference and realized that placing the center at that site would not be beneficial to the people. He advised he would probably be off of Council when it is completed but knows it will be money well spent.

Councilman Whipple encouraged everyone to continue to work together and stated that it was not always what it seemed to be. He quoted former Mayor Michael Blake stating that "we are all God's children, all one race and that is the human race". He stressed that we should not be divided but should all work together.

Councilwoman Warner mentioned that she had the opportunity to attend "Super Heroes Day" at Melbourne Square Mall. The Cocoa Police Department was represented and everyone was showing off their best stuff. She pointed out that Officer Matt Rush's son made sure everyone got to try on gear and thanked Officer Rush for bringing his son.

She thanked the other officers who helped with the event as well.

Councilman Boisvert was happy with the way the vote turned out and stressed it was the wish of their constituents. He hoped that something could be done with Provost in the future. He is happy they are moving forward and thanked everyone for participating this evening.

Deputy Mayor Blanco felt that the message she received tonight was about the passion that the community felt about keeping the center where it is at. She had to vote true to her conscious and heart. She believed you could feel the passion and applauded those who showed up at the public meeting and mentioned there was over 100 people in attendance.

She spoke of her attendance at the Cocoa High School Class of 2018 graduation. Councilman Whipple and the Chief Cantaloupe also attended. The following day she attended Emma Jewel Charter Academy's 8th grade graduation. She cannot say enough about the job they are doing with the children.

Mayor Parrish believed that everyone worked together tonight and this is what it is all about. He is excited about the project and reminded everyone that it has to go through the process.

He asked the City Manager to come up with an action plan for Provost Park so they can ensure it does not go back to the way it was.

In closing, he asked if there was anything that Community Services could do in regards to the many rental/vacancy signs in the village. In response, Ms. Amility believes that a big part of the problem is the changing face of retail. She is going to share the comments with Larry Lallo and with the City Manager in order to come up with some ideas. They will bring the ideas back to Council.

Mayor Parrish agreed and thought an action plan for this would also be a good idea. Councilwoman Warner agreed that hearing there are so many vacancies is hard.

Mayor Parrish acknowledged former Mayor Mike Blake and former Councilmember Aleck Greenwood in the audience.

In closing, Mayor Parrish announced that he will be retiring from his job in one week. He has worked thirty years, one and one-half months (30 1 ½).

City Council Questions

EXHIBIT B: PETITION DISTRIBUTED BY NATE HOOKS

May 29, 2018

To the City of Cocoa

Dr. Joe Lee Smith Center Project

As a concerned citizen, I support that the location of the Dr. Joe lee Smith Center remain in its original location. Upgrades to the existing center are welcomed.

The center has served many children, civic organizations, and citizens throughout Brevard County. The Dr. Joe Lee Center is conveniently located in the heart of the city, making the center accessible to many.

With long standing history of the center, moving it would take away from the current community adding to continued closures that operationally serves as a disconnect to the current community. I vote to propose that the center continues to remain in the current location to serve everyone who wishes to use the facility.

RE: Joe Lee Smith Center

DATE: May 9, 2018

Fifty-five years ago under the banner of the Central Brevard Recreation Association known widely as CBRA, a group of civic leaders such as Leon and Jewel Collins, Rev. W. O. Wells, Rudolph V. Stone, James and Nancy Brightman, Richard K. Blake, Sylvester Weaver, Dr. Joe Lee Smith, Sylvester Donald, Rudolph Murray and others worked tirelessly with city and government officials to build a recreation facility in the heart of the Black community.

I am now seventy-three years of age but I was only eighteen when the Joe Lee Smith Center was constructed. Prior to its' construction, neighborhood youth, including myself, had to learn how to swim in snake infested ponds, how to dribble a basketball on asphalt and citizens and families had no place to meet as a group. The building of the Joe Lee Smith Center was a "Big Deal" from a historic point of view and significance.

Therefore I support the demolition of the Joe Lee Smith Center now due to the hazardous conditions of the center and a need to construct a state of the art facility at its' present location. This development, if successful, will help preserve a historic legacy of community pride and involvement as we all look towards the future.
